Report of Operative G T Purdy

Sept. 2nd, 1926.

SUBJECT: Jane Gibson, alias Mary Eisleitner, Jane Easton, Janette Hilton.

Operative went to Newark, N.J. and to Police Headquarters where I interviewed Captain Brex of the Detective Bureau, who stated that the man whom he assigned to search the records was unable to find any record against the names I gave him. He gave me the attached report, which the officer made up, after cutting off the Newark Police Department heading and his own name, which he did not wish to have mentioned.

Operative then looked up 47 Orange Street, Newark and found that Dr. Edwin Betts, a dentist occupies this building and that he has been there for 7 years. He did not know who lived there before him and was unable to give me any information on the tenants who lived there in 1903.

Operative then made inquiries at #61 Orange St. and found this house to be a three story building and is unoccupied at present. Was unable to locate anyone who could give information regarding the former occupants. Made inquiries in a restaurant at 67 Orange St. and was advised that a man named Austy Healy kept a restaurant in the store in that building about the year of 1903. Made inquiries regarding Austy Healy but could not locate him.

At 47 High Street, which is the last house Subject was supposed to have lived in, is occupied by an Italian family who purchased the house about 5 years ago. They could not give me any information and after making inquiries found that the entire block is inhabited by Italians and Operative was unable to find anyone who lived there at the time Subject did.

Operative then proceeded to Jersey City to interview Captain Coakely of the Pennsylvania Railroad Police and upon my arrival there was informed that he
